

WHY INDIA MUST PROTECT PAKISTAN'S FUTURE

The bombing of the Marriott Hotel can be described as the new generation of guerilla fighters responding to the occupying forces in Afghanistan's inexorable push eastward. India cannot afford to be pleased to see Pakistan destabilised, as the economically bankrupt US and allies seek to thwart the emergence of Asia (ie China and India) as the centre of global power by mid-century. The war in Afghanistan has nothing to do with introducing democracy or good governance but ensuring the continued exploitation of client states in the West's geo-strategic moves.

If Pakistan is overrun or hurled into turmoil "necessitating" permanent military presence on India's and China's doorsteps (not to mention Russia's) it would only serve to maintain multinational corporations' stability and greater profits gained from innocent blood. Such mayhem will strengthen jihadi extremism and violence. Terror will manifest from radicalised muslims in the sub-continent, heightened by escalation of US air-strikes. When the US was losing in Vietnam, the US

When the US was losing in Vietnam, the US bombed Cambodia in desperation. When Afghanistan is failing, it strikes at Pakistan. All we need is another emboldened Pol-Pot in Pakistan, for guaranteed catastrophe.

Remember that life is cheap outside the first world.

bombed Cambodia in desperation. When Afghanistan is failing, it strikes at Pakistan. All we need is another emboldened Pol-Pot in Pakistan, for guaranteed catastrophe. Remember that life is cheap outside the first world. We need to be aware that again, the US is the most serious threat to peace at home.
