Shahrukh in a remake of "The departed"

There have been countless numbers of American film remakes in Bollywood - some have been great while others flopped painfully. The new remake on everyone's lips these days has great potential to become a hit. Super star Shahrukh Khan is set to star in a remake of "The departed" originally starring Leonardo DiCaprio.

Earlier this year Shahrukh met up with Leonardo and the director of the Hollywood version at the Berlin film festival. There was nothing mentioned about the project at the time but now that word is out, the meeting makes a lot of sense.

Shahrukh is now very busy with Don 2 and his home production Ra. 1 and will not be available until 2011 sometime for the shooting of this new film.

Sanjay's twins go home

A couple of weeks ago Sanjay Dutt and his wife welcomed their baby twins to the world. The twins were born prematurely and had to remain in hospital. It was only a couple of days ago that they could finally take their babies, Iqra and Shahraan home.

The couple had decided upon these names during their holiday to Egypt In January before the pregnancy was even uncovered. Shahraan a name of Persian origin meaning "royal knight" was brought on by the fact that Sanjay's wife and mother (Nargis) are both from muslim origins. Iqra (to educate) also has a join to Islam.

With Sanjay's elder daughter Trishala (from his first wife Richa) and now his baby twins Sanjay is a very happy man now.
