Lost finger
One person who lost his finger due to an accident, was so sad about his lost finger and daily used to sit on a bench in a public park, looking at amputated place of his finger.

One day he saw a person who was dancing down the park with joy but he did not have his both hands from the wrist!!!
Having seen this wonderful man who can still be happy and walking so much joyfully with dancing, worried fellow quickly approached him and asked, "My dear friend, how you are so much happy even without both hands? I am so worried for my lost finger.

Man stopped dancing and whispered to his ear, "Get lost from here! I am trying my level best to take out an ant which is inside my under wear!"
