Kajol and Ajay Devgan welcome a baby boy into their small family. The actress delivered her second child on 13th of September. The very next day the couple named their new arrival "Yug" meaning an Epoch, eon or time.

This was one of the names they had shortlisted earlier this year. They had decided on "Nysa" meaning goddess of beauty, seven years prior for their daughter. Sources close to the Devgan family reveal that all the names were short as they leading roles is scheduled for release on November the 19th, 2010.

Hrithik Roshan has said that he feels lucky to be a part of Guzaarish and thanks Direct Bhansali for the opportunity.

The movie tells a dark tale of Ethan (Hrithik Roshan), a magician, who is a paraplegic. Aishwarya Rai is a married woman who is his nurse. The movie also brings up the conflict ridden issue of euthanasia.

Guzaarish is the first film Roshan and Bansali have collaborated on.

I Am

I Am is an upcoming Indian film by Onir. It consists of four short films: "Omar", "Afia", "Abhimanyu", and "Megha". Each film world renowned German composer Hands Zimmer to compose the background music of the film.

Zimmer is best known for his compositions for films like Gladiator, Pirates of the Caribbean series, The Da Vinci code, the dark knight and Inception. What an amazing catch for Shahrukh!

Salmans Da-banging Performance

Salman Khans newest release has managed a historic record box office collection in its first week. Dabangg, set in Uttar Pradesh, is the story of a corrupt police officer played by Salman Khan and highlights the flaws and loopholes in the system. The film primarily deals with the unlawful practices in the states of UP and Bihar. A simple love story is also shares the common theme of fear and each is also based on real life stories. The film was sponsored by donations from more than 400 different people around the world, many of whom donated through social networking sites like Facebook

I am Megha is of special interest as beautiful 90's Queen Juhi Chawla was cast to play the main role of Megha, a Hindu Pandit girl who leaves her hometown for further studies. On her return, she finds her best friend, Manisha Koirala, a Muslim girl living in her home and things have changed everywhere.

entwined with his lady love played by new comer Sonakshi Sinha.

The film produced a full house in all 50 shows held in Bombay on its first week. Looks like Salman's triumphant dabangg is on its way to complete domination.

Chawla and Koirala will be returning to Hindi films after some time and both these actresses enjoyed the experience of getting meaty roles to enact.
